

About the Author

J. E. Daniels

J.E. DANIELS, a Christian since elementary school has authored novels, screenplays, self-help material, and more. J.E. has devoted much time over the years to helping troubled males, abused women, children, and problem teens.

J.E.'s writings and now published books come from elements of these experiences, weaving serious and compelling topics of today into insightful and inspired fiction books based upon many true events.

At great risk from armed pimps, J.E. has walked the streets of Los Angeles, encouraging runaways and prostitutes to make better choices for themselves—never meeting a prostitute who was not sexually abused as a child or teen.

The first Hollywood agent wanted to introduce sex scenes and foul language in order to sell more. But J.E. took the other path, with a new publisher to share these experiences, showcase amazing real-life journeys, and deliver the key message: Putting God and Family FIRST, always!

J.E. knew this was right when frequent, strong reviews came in applauding the chosen direction, "I didn't realize there were no sex scenes or bad language until it was pointed out to me. The story was that good."

J.E. recommends, Put God, our Father in Heaven, His Son, Jesus Christ, and family first, and everything else will work out. Keeping our priorities straight solves most of our problems. This direction has also led to strong sales, continuing reviews and the encouragement to write more on important topics to help people wrestle with what life brings.

Having moved from the suburbs of Washington, D.C., J.E. currently resides in the Raleigh, North Carolina area.
